Credentialing Tools to Confidently
Manage the New Business of Healthcare

Reduce the Complexity of Credentialing with My Credential Manager

Healthcare Credentialing Compliance is Complex and Ever-Changing

Staying familiar with vendor credentialing requirements—and ever-evolving protocols for facility access—is challenging. Events over the last few years have led healthcare leaders to reevaluate vendor credentialing compliance and facility access strategies. With requirements varying from facility to facility, vendor credentialing compliance has increased in complexity.

Now more than ever, vendor credentialing is more than just providing documents and acquiring a badge. It's standing with your customers' commitment to enhance compliance and safety—to create safer healthcare environments for everyone.

Open More Doors to More Opportunities with GHX Vendormate

Stay focused on valuable relationships with a holistic approach to vendor credentialing. Whether you have a team of 25 or 25,000, GHX Vendormate can help simplify processes and reduce barriers with tools and support—so your vendor representatives can get in, get out and get on with business.

Let's face it, the administration of credentialing for vendor representatives can be a lot to handle. To help keep your organization compliant and productive, you need a streamlined solution for monitoring your reps and managing the process.

My Credential Manager helps you verify that your team is ready to enter hospitals by monitoring reps' compliance status and providing powerful reporting capabilities. So everyone can get back to business, with your reps doing what they do best.

With My Credential Manager, You Get:

Greater Control: Create and review rep profiles in the Vendormate system, upload documents to any hospital system, and manage hospital and territory changes.

Compliance Monitoring: View rep participation and compliance, access a master policy list (inclusive of all hospitals in the Vendormate network), easily identify non-compliant staff, and review document

Support: Get extra help when you need it with readily-available support from our experienced Customer Success Management Team!

Keep Your Representatives Sales-Ready with Document Repository

Non-compliance due to missing documentation is one of the top reasons reps are denied access to healthcare facilities.¹ Which, in turn, can lead to lost sales and missed opportunities.

Document Repository—a centralized location where you can monitor, manage and track all hospital-required compliance documents — can help you take charge of your credentialing compliance process. And it has big benefits for administrators and reps alike.

Benefits for Vendor Organizations

- Review most recent updates to compliance status, 24/7
- Upload and proactively identify missing documentation
- Store company-specific information in the custom resource center
- Assist reps with credentialing requirements utilizing GHX tools
- Get assistance with documentation when needed
- See fewer missed or canceled appointments due to inadequate documentation
- Increase efficiency and time for sales opportunities

With different rules, requirements and deadlines for credentialing documentation, there are a lot of details for vendors to juggle, especially when managing reps across multiple states.

To help with this, Document Repository offers:

Centralized Storage. Easily store, manage and access credentialing documents in one place.

Streamlined Credentialing Process. Eliminate manual checks, paper trails and other time-consuming steps typically associated with credentialing processes across the organization.

Proactive Credentialing Management. Fulfill upcoming requirements automatically to take a proactive approach to ensuring requirements are met on time, every time.

Streamline Credentialing Management— from Training to Compliance with GHX Credentialing Managed Service

An average med-device company spends a cumulative 21,358 hours on credentialing across administrative, human resource and sales departments¹. To keep your representatives customer-ready, you need comprehensive training and administrative support with daily credentialing needs — across multiple vendor credentialing organizations (VCOs).

Really, there are three ways to manage credentialing. It can be handled fully by your reps, managed by reps with some corporate support, or completely outsourced.

The latter is where GHX Credentialing Managed Service comes in. Whether you are ramping up your team for a new product launch or looking for ways to increase efficiencies across your established credentialing program, we can help you streamline processes and free up time for your reps.
